

Discocó

Christophe Mathieu

marset

Exuberant, even when switched off, the richness of the light emitted by this lamp provides direct downward illumination as well as a dramatic surrounding interplay of light and shadow. Its detailed study of indirect light adds nuance and also depth. Additional reflections dance off the chrome-covered hemisphere at the core, to which the discs are attached. When it's off, the Discocó is a stunning object that catches the eye and fills the space.
