

TXL 2019

Joan Gaspar

marset

Light up the outdoors with the same warmth as in indoor lamp. That is the purpose of the TXL, and it does so thanks to its textile shade. An apparently malleable material, it is highly resistant, not only to water but also to adverse weather conditions. The TXL wants to fill space with a light of its own; stunning thanks to its size and its textile shade that filters the light and appears to vibrate. Solid and colossal, the TXL projects the warm light of an indoor space outside.
