Marset wins the Spanish National Design Award 2015

The Spanish Ministry of Economy and Competitiveness has selected Marset as the winner of its National Design Award 2015. This is the most prestigious award for Design in Spain for companies that successfully use innovative design as part of their business strategy.

The jury highly valued Marset, stating "their designs in the field of lighting establish an important business strategy and transverse barriers, uniting the product, communication and the company, thus achieving sustainable and responsible behaviour". The jury also highlighted "the company's exceptional growth in recent years, its strong export quota and the high quality of their various collections".

The main objectives of the Spanish National Design Awards are to promote the culture of design and innovation, both in the business world and in society as a whole.

For Marset, design generates sustainable and responsible behaviour which contribute positively to an innovative society and a better quality of life. Marset uses light as a creative medium and this is reflected in their designs which express the way they see life. Marset cares about light and how light is used in people's lives, and an integral part of their designs is the inclusion of the five senses: a curious eye, an attentive ear, a nose for intuitiveness, a sensitive touch and taste for beauty.
